

XIII JORNADAS STIC CCN-CERT

ELISA

Estudio
simplificado de
fuentes abiertas

ELISA
Entender la desinformación
y anticipar y prevenir la agresión

COMUNIDAD Y CONFIANZA,
BASES DE NUESTRA CIBERSEGURIDAD

#XIIIJORNADASCCNCERT

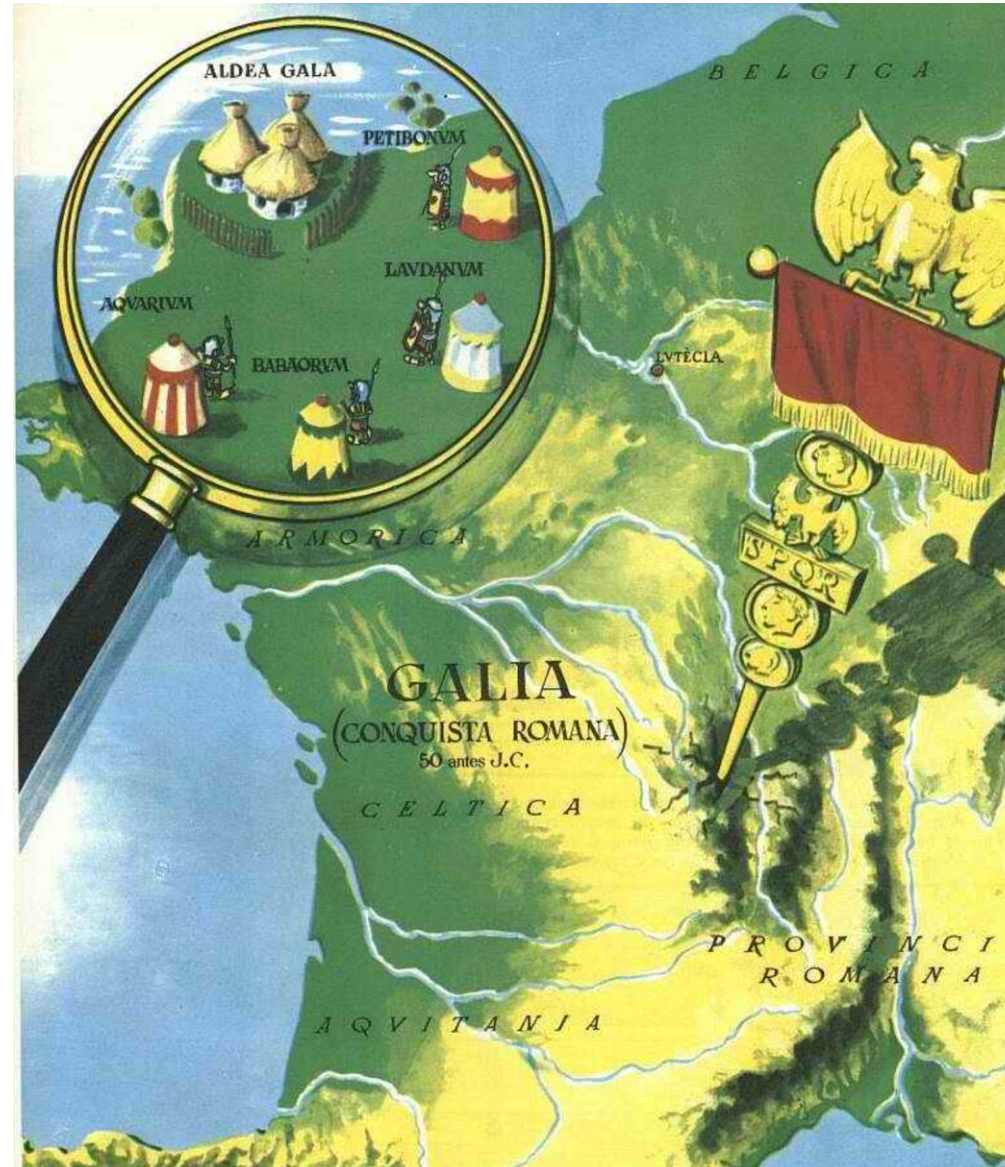

ELISA

Estudio
simplificado de
fuentes abiertas

Javier Lesaca

Visitor Researcher. Columbia University

jl5373@columbia.edu

ELISA

Estudio
simplificado de
fuentes abiertas

95 indicadores para detectar y objetivar la amenaza y adelantarse a la desinformación

- Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad
- Explotación de vulnerabilidades políticas/sociales y económicas previas
- Intencionalidad política/ideológica

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad (12 indicadores)

- Fecha de creación
- Número de personas responsables identificadas
- Número de personas que firman noticias
- Presencia de una sede física
- Punto de contacto (teléfono, correo electrónico)
- Publicación de noticias falsas
- Publicación de noticias con medias verdades

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad

ESTUDIO SIMPLIFICADO DE FUENTES ABIERTAS

 Crear medio

URL/Dominio

Descripción

Tipos de medios

Derecha antisistema España Izquierda antisistema España Altermundismo/conspiraciones España Independentismo/Nacionalismo catalán Independentismo/Nacionalismo vasco
Otros movimientos independentistas España Webs pro iraníes Webs pro rusas Webs chavistas/Venezuela Izquierda antisistema LATAM Derecha antisistema LATAM Socialismo/nacionalismo árabe
Derecha antisistema USA Izquierda antisistema USA Derecha antisistema Europa Foros/Conspiraciones Extremismo religioso Corea del Norte Izquierda antisistema Europa

País

Narrativas sobre España

No ☐ Sí

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad

ESTUDIO SIMPLIFICADO DE FUENTES ABIERTAS

Fecha de creación

d/m/Y (Vacio si se desconoce)

Num. personas responsables identificadas

Num periodistas con firma

Autores

¿Sede física?

No ☐ Sí

Empresa o grupo editor identificado

No ☐ Sí

Dirección de correo

No ☐ Sí

Número de teléfono

No ☐ Sí

Noticias falsas

No ☐ Sí

Noticias manipuladas

No ☐ Sí

Sede en el extranjero

No ☐ Sí

Posicionamiento con bots

☒ Ns ☐ Sí ☐ No

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades (32 indicadores)

Ruptura del contrato social en 7 áreas

ESTUDIO SIMPLIFICADO DE FUENTES ABIERTAS

Explota vulnerabilidades sociales

- Anti Inmigración
- Anti Semitismo
- Pro Homofobia
- Pro Islamofobia
- Anti Vaticano/Papa/Catolicismo
- Anti Globalismo/Anti Nuevo orden mundial
- Anti feminismo/Igualdad
- Denigra instituciones/autoridades del Estado
- Pro movimientos independentistas
- Pro movimientos identitarios nacionalistas anti-secesionistas
- Difunde imagen de Estado como violento y/o corrupto
- Fomenta Revisionismo histórico
- Fomenta conspiración Chemtrails
- Teorías conspirativas de alteración elecciones
- Teorías conspirativas de redes de pederastia vinculadas al Estado/instituciones
- Desprestigio a medios de comunicación tradicionales
- Anti sistema financiero/pro regreso del patrón oro/anti economía liberal
- Anti vacunas/anti farma/anti ciencia
- Vida extraterrestre
- Negación versión oficial atentados/crímenes
- Anti multilateralismo (OTAN/UE/Euro/UN/FMI/Banco Mundial)
- Anti tratados libre comercio/liberalismo/globalismo
- Defensa de Eurasia/vinculación con Aleksandr Dugin
- Supremacismo racial
- Utiliza redes sociales alternativas (VK, gab.ai...)
- Anti americanismo
- MK Ultra/políticas de control social
- Pro anonymous/wikileaks
- Anti europeísmo/Anti Euro
- Negación cambio climático
- Gran alerta por el cambio climático
- Alerta 5G

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en el pensamiento científico y racional (6 indicadores)

- Chemtrails y geoingeniería
- Antivacunas/curación alternativa de enfermedades
- Teorías negacionistas no científicas sobre el cambio climático
- Teorías catastrofistas no científicas sobre el cambio climático
- Teorías sobre la presencia de vida extra terrestre
- Teorías revisionistas de la Historia (negacionismo holocausto, fomento de la Leyenda Negra, conspiraciones II Guerra Mundial...)

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en en las instituciones públicas (8)

- Denigrar o difamar instituciones del Estado (Rey, presidente del Gobierno, constitución, régimen democrático...)
- Difundir la imagen de una democracia como violenta y corrupta
- Teorías sobre la alteración de procesos electorales
- Teorías sobre la implicación de autoridades del Estado en redes de pederastia y pedofilia.
- Negación de la versión oficial probada y juzgada de atentados terroristas y grandes crímenes.
- Utilización sistemática de estrategias de control social como el MK ultra.
- Utilización sistemática del 5G como herramienta de espionaje y control social.
- Apoyo a organizaciones de revelación de secretos oficiales como Wikileaks

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en en las instituciones multilaterales (3)

- Teorías contrarias a organizaciones multilaterales: Naciones Unidas, OTAN, FMI, Banco Mundial
- Teorías contrarias y agresivas contra la Unión Europea y el Euro
- Teorías favorables al concepto político de Eurasia y sus ideólogos

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en el sistema financiero (2)

- Teorías sobre el regreso al patrón oro, corrupción del sistema capitalista.
- Anti tratados de libre comercio

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en los medios de comunicación tradicionales (2)

- Crítica o desprestigio a los medios de comunicación tradicionales.
- Utilización de redes sociales alternativas (vk, gab.ai...)

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a romper la cohesión social y la criminalización de las minorías (6)

- Fomento de movimientos independentistas
- Fomento de movimientos supremacistas
- Fomento de movimientos identitarios nacionalistas no independentistas.
- Criminalización de la inmigración
- Criminalización y humillación de los colectivos de diversidad sexual.
- Oposición a los principios de igualdad de género.

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

Narrativas destinadas a la construcción de un enemigo externo (5)

- Teorías anti-semitas/anti Estado de Israel
- Teorías anti Vaticano/Papa/Iglesias Católica
- Teorías anti Islam, criminalización musulmanes
- Teorías anti globalista, teorías sobre el Nuevo Orden Mundial.
- Teorías anti estadounidenses.

III. Detectar la intencionalidad ideológica extranjera/subversiva/antisistémica (28 indicadores)

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

The screenshot shows the website of the Strategic Culture Foundation. The browser address bar displays <https://www.strategic-culture.org>. The website features a navigation menu on the left with categories: WORLD, AMERICAS, EUROPE, ASIA-PACIFIC, MIDDLE EAST, AFRICA, SECURITY, WAR AND CONFLICT, ARMS CONTROL, DEFENSE, SOCIETY, BUSINESS, HISTORY, INTERVIEW, INFOGRAPHICS, VIDEOS, CONTRIBUTORS, and ABOUT US. The main content area includes a featured story titled "Trade and Peaceful Cooperation Will Beat the Warmongers" by Brian Cloughley, dated December 10, 2019. Below this, the "Most recent" section highlights a security article titled "Netanyahu-Pompeo Meeting Solidifies War Plan on Iran" by Finian Cunningham, also dated December 10, 2019. The article text states: "The hastily arranged meeting last week between Israeli leader Benjamin Netanyahu and US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo had the hallmarks of a war-plan summit amid a peak in renewed media provocation against Iran."

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

The screenshot shows the Strategic Culture Foundation website. The header includes the site's name and a navigation menu with categories like WORLD, AMERICAS, EUROPE, ASIA-PACIFIC, MIDDLE EAST, AFRICA, SECURITY, WAR AND CONFLICT, ARMS CONTROL, DEFENSE, SOCIETY, BUSINESS, HISTORY, INTERVIEW, INFOGRAPHICS, VIDEOS, CONTRIBUTORS, and ABOUT US. The main article is titled "All of Spain Should Vote on Catalan Independence" by James George JATRAS, dated October 6, 2017. The article text discusses the frame of mind regarding secession by ethnic minorities and the 1990 Soviet law on secession. The right sidebar features a profile of James George JATRAS and a list of other articles by the author, including "Violence Erupts as West Turns Its Sexual Subversion Weapon on Georgia" and "Trump Will Be Impeached. The Stupid Party Says, 'Bring It On!'". A newsletter sign-up form is also present.

Strategic Culture Foundation

WORLD

All of Spain Should Vote on Catalan Independence

James George JATRAS | October 6, 2017

There is a certain frame of mind that believes that secession by ethnic minorities is an absolute good in itself. Asked the question, "Should Region X have the right to secede from Country Y?", a lot of people will answer with a resounding "Yes!" without knowing or even caring where X and Y are or who lives there.

Others are more selective, relying instead on the Bolshevik principle of kto-kovo ("who-whom"), which relegates the righteousness of secession to whether or not the observer likes or dislikes the state in question. This is typical of western governments. Good secessions are from countries we don't like – Serbia above all, of course. Independent Kosovo: good. Montenegro's separation from its union with Serbia: good. But Republika Srpska's possible separation from Bosnia and Herzegovina: bad. Independence of Serbian Krajinas from secessionist Croatia: emphatically bad. Northern Kosovo and Metohija's separation from "sovereign, independent Kosovo": very, very bad.

The only constant: Serbs are always wrong.

The same subjective kto-kovo frames conflicts in the former Soviet Union. The deus ex machina independence of all the former Union Republics was an automatic and positive development. But the desire of any portion of them – Abkhazia, South Ossetia, Adzharia (Georgia), Pridnestrovie, Gagauzia (Moldova), Crimea, Donbass (Ukraine) – to leave its former Union Republic is per se illegitimate, notwithstanding the 1990 Soviet law on secession requiring separate referenda in such entities.

James George JATRAS
Analyst, former U.S. diplomat and foreign policy adviser to the Senate GOP leadership

Also by this author

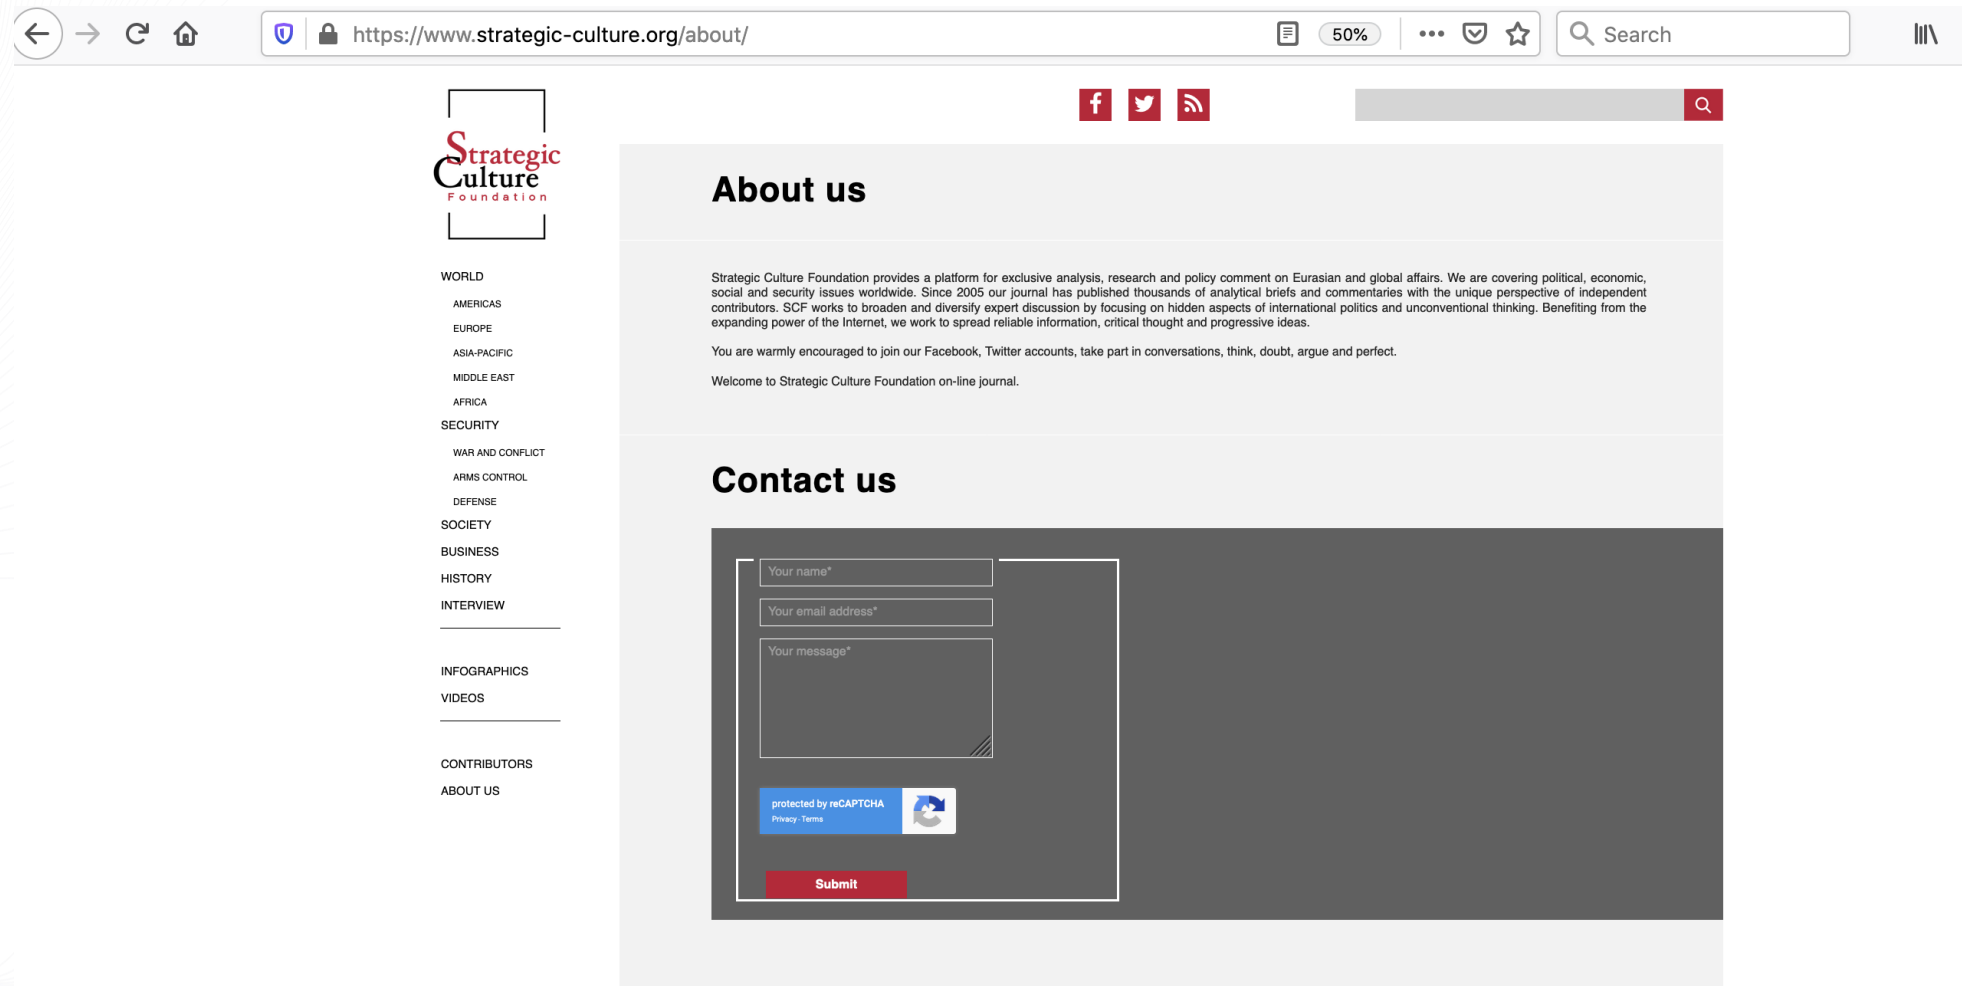

- Violence Erupts as West Turns Its Sexual Subversion Weapon on Georgia
- Trump Will Be Impeached. The Stupid Party Says, 'Bring It On!'
- My Role in Weaponizing 'Moral Equivalence' and 'Religious Freedom'
- Serbian Church Defeats US Agenda in Ukraine but Not in Serbia – Yet
- O Canada! The True North Strong and Free – Not

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation Newsletter

Enter your email address

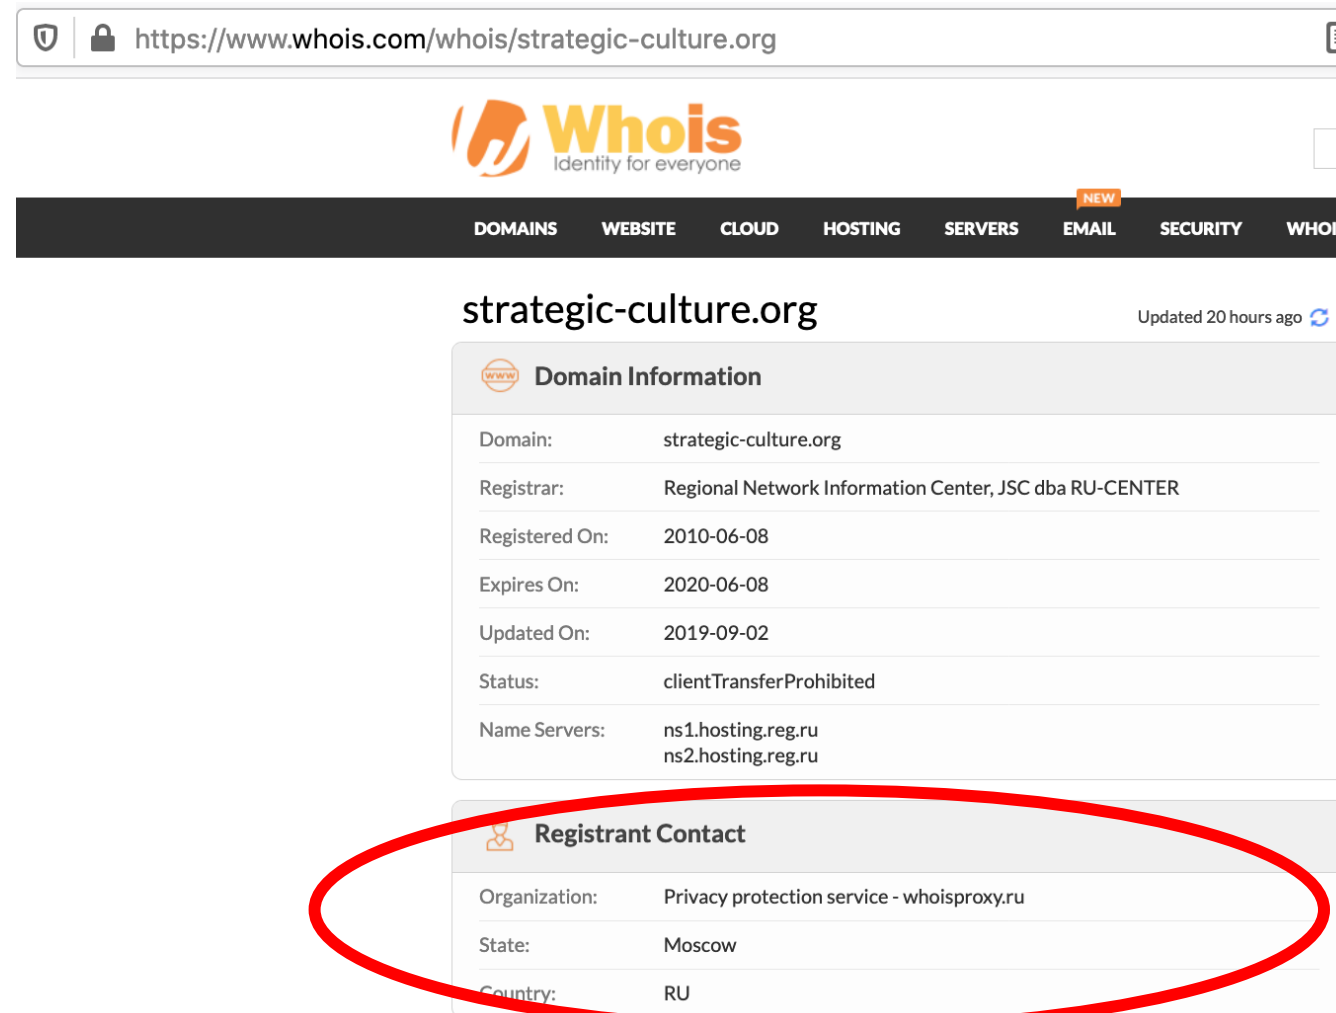

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

I. Ocultación, falta de transparencia y de trazabilidad

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

The screenshot shows the Whois website interface. The browser address bar displays <https://www.whois.com/whois/strategic-culture.org>. The Whois logo is visible, along with a navigation menu containing: DOMAINS, WEBSITE, CLOUD, HOSTING, SERVERS, EMAIL, SECURITY, and WHOIS. The main heading is strategic-culture.org, with a note "Updated 20 hours ago" and a refresh icon. Below this, there are two sections: "Domain Information" and "Registrant Contact". The "Registrant Contact" section is circled in red.

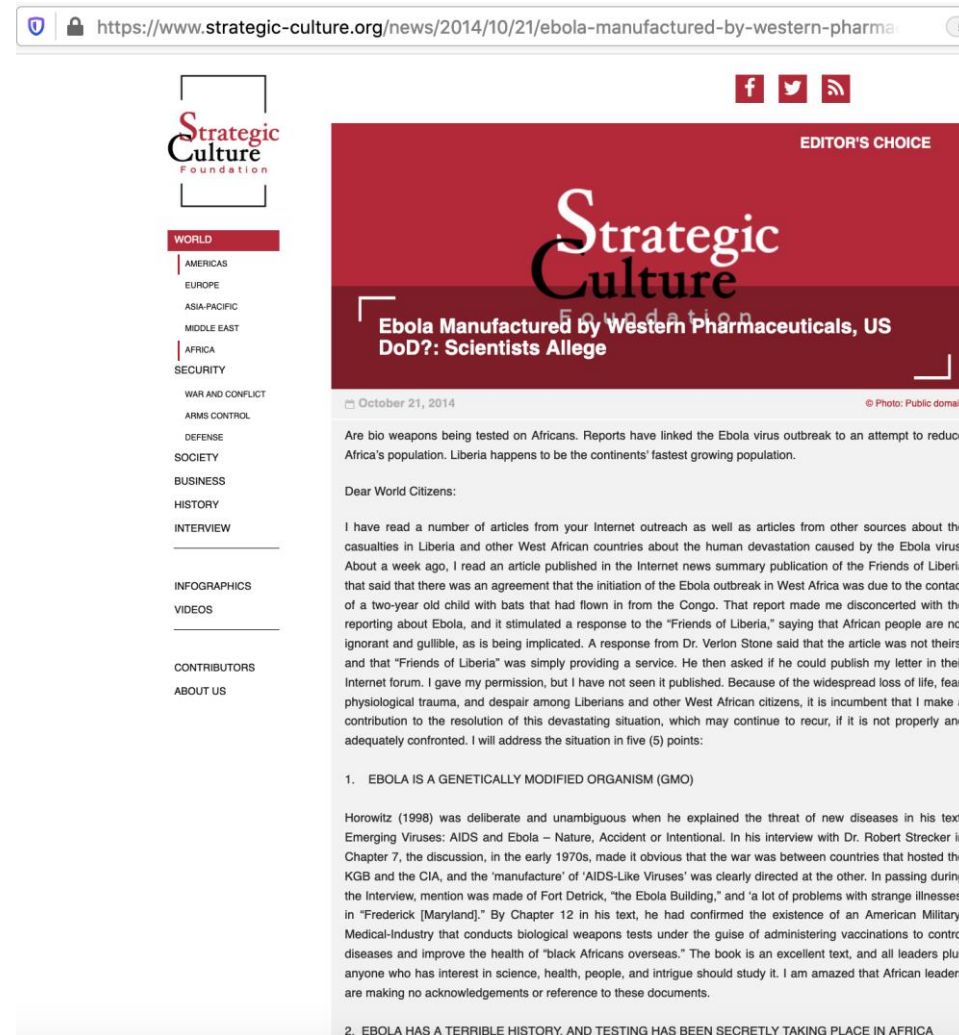

Domain Information
Domain:	strategic-culture.org
Registrar:	Regional Network Information Center, JSC dba RU-CENTER
Registered On:	2010-06-08
Expires On:	2020-06-08
Updated On:	2019-09-02
Status:	clientTransferProhibited
Name Servers:	ns1.hosting.reg.ru ns2.hosting.reg.ru

Registrant Contact
Organization:	Privacy protection service - whoisproxy.ru
State:	Moscow
Country:	RU

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en el pensamiento científico y racional

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en las instituciones públicas

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2016/03/27/brussels-attack-another-chapter-in-> 50%

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2019/08/06/politics-and-pedophilia-demonic-mi> 50%

Strategic Culture Foundation

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

OPERATION GLADIO

Brussels Attack: Another Chapter in NATO's Gladio Strategy?

Wayne Madsen | March 27, 2016

Photo: Public domain

Wayne MADSEN

Investigative journalist, author and syndicated columnist. A member of the Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ) and the National Press Club

Also by this author

- Trump's Monroe Doctrine 2.0
- Nation Abandonment: the Catch Phrase for the 21st Century
- Grand Theft Government With a Tinge of Perversion
- The Rise of Militant Religious Right in Latin America
- Trump Ignites War on Native Americans From the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation Newsletter

Enter your email address

Strategic Culture Foundation

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

Politics and Pedophilia: a Demonic Mix

Wayne Madsen | August 6, 2019

Photo: Pixabay

Wayne MADSEN

Investigative journalist, author and syndicated columnist. A member of the Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ) and the National Press Club

Also by this author

- Trump's Monroe Doctrine 2.0
- Nation Abandonment: the Catch Phrase for the 21st Century
- Grand Theft Government With a Tinge of Perversion
- The Rise of Militant Religious Right in Latin America
- Trump Ignites War on Native Americans From the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego

The indictment of wealthy investor Jeffrey Epstein by the US Attorney for the Southern District of New York (SDNY) on charges of international sex trafficking and a wider conspiracy to commit such activity has sent shock waves throughout the political, business, and social strata of the United States and other countries.

Epstein's fleet of private aircraft and numerous residences have law enforcement investigators looking deeply into various activities, over several decades, involving Epstein's recent and distant past. Moreover, according to police reports, court filings, and witness statements, Epstein's circle of friends includes some of the most politically important people in the world, including President Donald Trump; former President Bill Clinton; Britain's Prince Andrew, the Duke of York; and former Israeli Prime Minister Ehud Barak. All of these VIPs, as well others, have socialized with Epstein, with Trump, in particular, being well-aware of Epstein's taste in women that were "on the younger side." In fact, Trump and Epstein were named as co-defendants in a 2016 lawsuit citing the alleged 1994 rape of a 13-year girl at Epstein's Manhattan mansion. That lawsuit – Jane Doe v. Jeffrey Epstein and Donald Trump – has received more serious attention now that Epstein, a previously convicted underage sex offender in Florida, has been indicted on federal sex-trafficking charges.

The Epstein connection to the Trump administration also included Trump's pick for Secretary of Labor, Alex Acosta, the US Attorney for South Florida who, in 2007 and 2008, crafted a federal and state of Florida non-prosecution agreement that immunized Epstein and his associates from any future state or federal prosecutions related to Epstein's trafficking in underage girls. In return for such a "sweetheart" plea agreement, Epstein merely had to plead guilty to a few charges of soliciting prostitution from underage girls, serve a virtual "open door" jail sentence for thirteen months in Palm Beach County, and agree to register as a sex offender. Questions about Acosta's role with Epstein and the agreement resulted in his resignation as Labor Secretary. Part of Acosta's duties as Labor Secretary was the monitoring of the sex trafficking of women and children for prostitution pursuant to US laws and international treaties.

Epstein was returning on his private jet from Paris on July 6 of this year when he was arrested by federal authorities. The international nature of Epstein's trafficking operations is highlighted by his ownership of two islands off of St. Thomas – Little St. James and Greater St. James – in the US Virgin Islands. Epstein has also maintained residences in Manhattan, Palm Beach, Florida (close to Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort complex), and New Mexico. Epstein used a fake Austrian passport issued under an alias. The use of fake or false identity-inserted authentic passports are a specialty of the Mossad, which maintains a "passport factory" in Israel used to produce bogus travel documents. These have been used for Mossad operations in Australia, Dubai, New Zealand, the United

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en las instituciones multilaterales

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2019/04/05/nato-70-years-old-still-vigorous-in- 50

- WORLD
- AMERICAS
- EUROPE
- ASIA-PACIFIC
- MIDDLE EAST
- AFRICA
- SECURITY
- WAR AND CONFLICT
- ARMS CONTROL
- DEFENSE
- SOCIETY
- BUSINESS
- HISTORY
- INTERVIEW
- INFOGRAPHICS
- VIDEOS
- CONTRIBUTORS
- ABOUT US

EDITORIAL

NATO 70 Years Old... Still Vigorous in Aggression

April 5, 2019 © Photo: Public domain

The substitution of Russia as an enemy in place of the Soviet Union does not quite hold the same propaganda cachet, but nonetheless that is why Moscow continues to be designated the official "enemy" – in order to justify the existence of NATO.

When the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was created 70 years ago in 1949 it was formed as a blatant military instrument for waging the Cold War, a war that the US, Britain and other European allies had newly embarked on. NATO's public relations cant about "peace and security" is but Orwellian rhetoric.

The supposed allies of the Soviet Union hastily went from an ostensible joint purpose of defeating Nazi Germany during the Second World War to initiating hostility towards Moscow. Already in 1946, British war-time leader Winston Churchill was fulminating about "an Iron Curtain" descending across Europe, in language adapted from Third Reich propaganda maestro Joseph Goebbels. The ensuing Cold War would last for nearly half a century until the Soviet Union collapsed from its internal political and economic stresses.

NATO's first secretary general, Britain's Lord Ismay, was candid in the mission of the military alliance. Its objective, he said, was to, "Keep Russia out, the Americans in, and Germany down".

Of course, Western propaganda always portrayed the Soviet Union as the "aggressor", alleging that the so-called Red Menace had designs on conquering all of Europe. Not much has changed when one listens to Western contemporary claims of Russia being an aggressor. As in the past, present innuendo casting Moscow as a demonic force has a decidedly hollow quality, at least for those willing to be critical about Western state and media "information".

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en las instituciones multilaterales

s://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2016/07/02/the-eu-architects-nazis-and-nazi-cc 50% Search

WORLD

AMERICAS
EUROPE
ASIA-PACIFIC
MIDDLE EAST
AFRICA
SECURITY
WAR AND CONFLICT
ARMS CONTROL
DEFENSE
SOCIETY
BUSINESS
HISTORY
INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS
VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS
ABOUT US

Wayne Madsen | July 2, 2016

Photo: Public domain

There is an old adage that pertains to the founding of the European Union «If at first you don't succeed, try, try again». And for the Nazis and Nazi collaborators of the Second World War, viewing the post-war European death and destruction brought about by Adolf Hitler and his «Third Reich» alliance of Italian fascists, French Vichy, and others, the immediate decision was to «try again» with a European Union that would establish the same European super-state envisaged by Hitler but with a decidedly «democratic» aura.

What eventually became the EU, the European Coal and Steel Community, was formed by six Western European countries in 1951. The organization was the brainchild of Robert Schuman, a French politician who swore allegiance to Marshal Philippe Petain, the French Vichy leader and ally of the mustachioed German ex-corporal. Schuman was later stripped of his political rights for his collaboration with the hated German boesche. However, Free French commander, General Charles De Gaulle, restored Schuman's full citizenship, after which the old Vichy collaborator set about to create a modified version of the Third Reich, the European Union. And to complement his «Fourth Reich-Lite», Schuman advocated a military alliance to give it muscle. It was the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Schuman served as a post-war French foreign and prime minister. Schuman's collaborators in his plan to create a federal Europe were fellow Frenchman and OSS/CIA asset Jean Monnet and German chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who, as pre-war mayor of Cologne and president of the Prussian State Council, provided the Nazis with various perks, including the right to fly Nazi flags from Cologne city flagpoles.

Another founding father of the EU was Walter Hallstein, a German lawyer who belonged to a number of Nazi professional groups and who fought as a lieutenant in a Wehrmacht artillery regiment in northern France. Hallstein was captured by the Americans and served out the remaining of the war in a prisoner-of-war camp in Mississippi. Western history books and the always-dubious Wikipedia, have whitewashed the Nazi credentials of EU founders like Schuman, Adenauer, and Hallstein.

Another supporter of the embryonic supporter of a federal Europe in the early 1950s was Prince Bernhard of Lippe-Biesterfeld in Germany and later of the Netherlands. Before marrying Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, Bernhard was a Nazi Party member in Germany and an officer of the Reiter (Mounted Corps) of the SS. He was also a member of the Nazi Motor Corps. In 1940, Bernhard's old pals at I.G. Farben, the German petro-chemical company, along with SS chief Heinrich Himmler, were lobbying Hitler for a common European currency, the precursor of today's euro. After the war, Bernhard enthusiastically supported the creation of a European Union. To shepherd plans for the future union through European nations, in 1954, Bernhard sponsored the first meeting of

Wayne MADSEN
Investigative journalist, author and syndicated columnist. A member of the Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ) and the National Press Club

Also by this author

- Trump's Monroe Doctrine 2.0
- Nation Abandonment: The Catch Phrase for the 21st Century
- Grand Theft Government With a Tinge of Perversion
- The Rise of Militant Religious Right in Latin America
- Trump Ignites War on Native Americans From the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation
Newsletter

Enter your email address

s://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2016/05/22/collapse-eu-return-national-sovereig 50% Search

WORLD

AMERICAS
EUROPE
ASIA-PACIFIC
MIDDLE EAST
AFRICA
SECURITY
WAR AND CONFLICT
ARMS CONTROL
DEFENSE
SOCIETY
BUSINESS
HISTORY
INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS
VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS
ABOUT US

May 22, 2016

Photo: Public domain

Peter Koenig

Imagine – the European Union were to collapse tomorrow – or any day soon for that matter. Europeans would dance in the streets. The EU has become a sheer pothole of fear and terror: Economic sanctions – punishment, mounting militarization, the abolition of civil rights for most Europeans. A group of unelected technocrats, representing 28 countries, many of them unfit to serve in their own countries' political system, but connected well enough to get a plum job in Brussels – are deciding the future of Europe. In small groups and often in secret chambers they decide the future of Europe.

Take the TTIP – under pressure from their masters in Washington, behind closed doors under utmost secrecy – and most likely against their own personal good – a small group of European Commission (EC) delegates without scruples, without any respect for their co-citizens, without consideration for their children, grand-children and their children, only interested in the instant laurels and pay-back – to be sure – from the colonialist, usurper and warrior number One, the United States of Chaos and Killing, they are ready to put 500 million Europeans and their descendants at peril.

It cannot be said enough what horrors the TTIP (Trans-Atlantic Trade and Investment Partnership) would do to the people of Europe; and that is based on the little we know from the 248 pages 'leaked' by Greenpeace Netherlands of the ultra-clandestine negotiations taking place. 'Negotiations' is the most unfair term imaginable, since all the rules are imposed by Washington, the same as with the TPP (Trans-Pacific Partnership, involving 11 Pacific countries and the US – but not China and Russia).

Though TPP negotiations are finished, none of the 11 Pacific partners, nor the US Congress have approved the treaty. There is hope that even if 'negotiations' by the secret EC traitors and Washington should come to conclusion, at least some of the 28 EU countries may not approve. To be valid, the treaty needs to be approved in unanimity. The new rightwing Austrian frontrunner for Austria's Presidency, Norbert Hofer, has already said he would not sign the TTIP agreement. Similar remarks have been made by the French Minister for Foreign Trade, Matthias Fekl, who said, "There cannot be an agreement without France and much less against France."

Under the TTIP, the citizens of Europe would lose out on all fronts. Europeans would become literally subjects of a corporate empire, led by the United States of America. EU countries would stop being sovereign nations, even more so than is already the case under the current Brussels dictate. As the secret TTIP documents reveal, the

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Also from EDITOR'S CHOICE

- Brexit – The Cover-Ups (That Will Change Britain Forever)
- So 14,000 Troops To The Middle East 'Fake News'? Not So Fast
- The Saudi/US Partnership: Evil Begets Evil
- US and UK Military-Intelligence Apparatus Campaigns to Destroy Jeremy Corbyn
- How middle class Bolivia learned to stop worrying and love the coup

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation
Newsletter

Enter your email address

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en el sistema financiero

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2019/07/27/bretton-woods-dead-what-next/>

50%

Search

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

BUSINESS

Matthew Ehret | July 27, 2019

Photo: Pixabay

French Finance Minister Bruno Le Maire has publicly admitted something normally reserved for backroom discussion in the circles of Europe's governing elite at an event honoring the 75th anniversary of Bretton Woods (the conference which created the foundations for the post WWII world order).

At this event, Le Maire stated ever-so candidly that "the Bretton Woods order has reached its limits. Unless we are able to re-invent Bretton Woods, the New Silk Road might become the New World Order".

He went onto state that "the pillars of that order have been the International Monetary Fund and its sister institution, the World Bank since their inception at the Bretton Woods conference in New Hampshire in 1944."

Were a radical transformation not undertaken immediately, then Le Maire laments "Chinese standards on state and on access to public procurements, on intellectual property could become global standards".

The finance minister's statements reflect the growing awareness that two opposing systems operating on two conflicting sets of principles and standards are currently in conflict, where only one can succeed. Yet as much as he appears to be aware of the forces at play between two systems, Le Maire fails miserably to identify what the Bretton Woods System was meant to accomplish in the first place, or what type of "radical transformation" is needed to save Europe from the collapse of its own speculation-ridden system.

Le Maire dives so deeply out of reality that he actually believes that the radical transformation desperately needed in the west does not involve collaborating with the New Silk Road, but rather to strengthen the power of Brussels, while becoming more technocratic and more green (aka: de-industrialized, de-populated).

The Bretton Woods of 1944 and New Silk Road of Today

Matthew EHRET

Matthew J.L. Ehret is a journalist, lecturer and founder of the Canadian Patriot Review.

Also by this author

- Macron's Great Leap East Revives the Spirit of De Gaulle
- Sociopaths on the Left and Sociopaths on the Right Work to Break Potential US-China Alliance
- A Sea Change for Canada Foreign Policy as Freeland Is Replaced by a Pro-Chinese Politico
- Freeland's New Role as Deputy Prime Minister Put's Her in 2nd in Command... of the Titanic
- Remembering John F. Kennedy's Vision for the Future that Should Have Been

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la confianza en los medios de comunicación

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2019/08/22/the-medias-massive-credibility-prob

50%

Search

Strategic Culture Foundation

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

EDITOR'S CHOICE

The Media's Massive Credibility Problem

August 22, 2019

© Photo: Flickr / U.S. Department of State

L. Brent BOZELL III

On her weekly Sinclair TV show, "Full Measure," on Aug. 18, former CBS News correspondent Sharyl Attkisson interviewed pollster Scott Rasmussen about journalists' standing in the public square. They're about as trusted as Wikipedia, the website considered so unreliable that school teachers often tell students they can't cite it as a source for their research papers.

Only 38 percent said national political coverage is accurate and reliable, while 42 percent said it is not. "We asked about national political reporters. Are they credible? Are they reliable?" said Rasmussen. "And you know, a little more than 1 out of 3 people say yes. When we ask about Wikipedia, we get the exact same answer. So what's — what's happening is we have a world where people look at journalists like they look at Wikipedia."

You hear the media elites often break out the nostalgia for an era when the American people had "shared facts." Translation: a time when all Americans had the "mainstream" media to tell them what the "facts" were, and when those in that "mainstream" enjoyed a monopoly in their industry. Facts always seemed carefully arranged for political impact. For example, the TV anchors told us the Vietnam War was an unwinnable quagmire. Watergate was the worst scandal in American history. The Soviet Union only wanted peace. The wealthy were greedy. Planet Earth would succumb to global warming. And Planned Parenthood cares about children.

All this created a national hunger for alternative sources of information. The addition of Fox News, conservative talk radio, and conservative news websites and blogs in the '90s is decreed as the dawn of a new era of "misinformation."

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Also from EDITOR'S CHOICE

- Brexit – The Cover-Ups (That Will Change Britain Forever)
- So 14,000 Troops To The Middle East 'Fake News'? Not So Fast
- The Saudi/US Partnership: Evil Begets Evil
- US and UK Military-Intelligence Apparatus Campaigns to Destroy Jeremy Corbyn
- How middle class Bolivia learned to stop worrying and love the coup

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation Newsletter

Enter your email address

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la cohesión social y la pluralidad

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2017/09/23/police-state-repression-catalonia/ 50% Search

Strategic Culture Foundation

WORLD

- AMERICAS
- EUROPE
- ASIA-PACIFIC
- MIDDLE EAST
- AFRICA

SECURITY

- WAR AND CONFLICT
- ARMS CONTROL
- DEFENSE

SOCIETY

- BUSINESS
- HISTORY
- INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Police State Repression in Catalonia

September 23, 2017 © Photo: Public domain

Stephen LENDMAN

Catalonia is an autonomous community in Spain's northeast, bordering France and the Mediterranean Sea, Barcelona its capital and largest city.

In November 2015, Catalan lawmakers approved a secession plan from Spain by 2017. October 1 is the moment of truth, Catalans to vote by referendum on whether to remain part of Spain or secede, establishing an independent state.

Self-determination is a universal right. It's a core principle of international law, enshrined in various treaties, affirmed in the UN Charter and International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR).

The following characteristics are necessary to qualify a nation-state status:

- a determinable territory, fixed or otherwise;
- a fixed population;

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Also from EDITOR'S CHOICE

- 🔗 Brexit – The Cover-Ups (That Will Change Britain Forever)
- 🔗 So 14,000 Troops To The Middle East 'Fake News'? Not So Fast
- 🔗 The Saudi/US Partnership: Evil Begets Evil
- 🔗 US and UK Military-Intelligence Apparatus Campaigns to Destroy Jeremy Corbyn
- 🔗 How middle class Bolivia learned to stop worrying and love the coup

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation Newsletter

Enter your email address

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la cohesión social y la pluralidad

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2018/08/15/sweden-burning-migrant-gangs-unleash-coordinated-fire-bomb-rampage-across-multiple-cities

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2015/10/26/strategic-engineered-migration-as-weapon-of-war

50%

...

Search

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Sweden Is Burning: Migrant Gangs Unleash Coordinated Fire-Bomb Rampage Across Multiple Cities

August 15, 2018

Photo: Public domain

Tyler DURDEN

Many Swedes were horrified in early 2017 when U.S. President Donald Trump linked immigration to rising crime in Sweden, but an increasing number now agree with him.

Amid soaring crime rates, gang violence, complaints about education, and pregnant mothers even being turned away from maternity wards due to a lack of capacity, resentment in Sweden has built over the influx of more than 600,000 immigrants over the past five years.

© Twitter / @JohanJansson

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

WORLD

Strategic Engineered Migration as Weapon of War

Leonid Savin | October 26, 2015

Photo: Public domain

After reading the title, you may think it is describing the phenomenon that Europe has recently been facing: the hundreds of thousands of refugees, both victims of the hardships of civil wars and opportunists, who are invading the Balkans by land and by sea and then making their way further, trying to reach richer countries like Germany, France and Scandinavia by any means possible.

It would seem that this stream of refugees has objective reasons: armed conflicts and wars have been going on in Libya, Syria and Iraq for many years, while the situation is also turbulent in Palestine and Afghanistan. In Tunisia and Egypt, meanwhile, both of which experienced the Arab Spring, the situation also leaves much to be desired. Hardly anybody is taking notice of Bahrain, where opposition protests have been brutally suppressed for years, while in Yemen, air strikes are even being carried out on wedding processions. The location of these two states is not very convenient, however – there is simply nowhere to flee. There is also another important detail: camps are being built for Muslim refugees in Saudi Arabia, but nobody is going there for some reason. As a last resort, they stay in Jordan and Turkey.

Is there also some general reason for their frantic desire to flee so far from their homeland? Wealthy relatives who have already settled in the European Union, perhaps? Or stories about welfare benefits on which they will be able to live comfortably? After all, to make such a journey they have to pay handsomely for the services of smugglers. According to some reports, these smugglers take between $4,000 and $10,000 to transport a single refugee from Syria or Libya to Europe. Even if this person has wealthy relatives abroad, receiving money via bank transfer is impossible in war-torn Syria. Organising transportation on credit clearly involves certain guarantees, especially considering that the boats often sink in the Mediterranean.

Who is providing guarantees that encourage hundreds of thousands of people to rush from other continents to

Leonid SAVIN
Independent analyst and researcher

Also by this author

- The Iraqi Puzzle
- Eight European Union Crises
- South China Sea and Geopolitics of Islands
- US Preparing for Never Ending War
- Cuba and US Foreign Policy

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation

Newsletter

Enter your email address

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a romper la cohesión social y la pluralidad

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2019/01/09/this-everything-that-is-wrong-with-r> 50%

WORLD
AMERICAS
EUROPE
ASIA-PACIFIC
MIDDLE EAST
AFRICA
SECURITY
WAR AND CONFLICT
ARMS CONTROL
DEFENSE
SOCIETY
BUSINESS
HISTORY
INTERVIEW
INFOGRAPHICS
VIDEOS
CONTRIBUTORS
ABOUT US

January 9, 2019

© Photo: Public domain

Caitlin JOHNSTONE

Outlets like MSNBC and Politico have been excitedly running headlines titled "The military-industrial complex is now run by women" and "How women took over the military-industrial complex". Apparently four of America's five top defense contractors are now women, whose names I will not bother to learn or report on because I do not care.

These headlines are being derided by skeptics of the establishment mindset for the cartoonish self-parody of the corporate liberal mindset that they so clearly are, and rightly so. Pretty much everything in American mainstream liberalism ultimately boils down to advancing mass murder, exploitation and ecocide for profit while waving a "gay diversity" banner so that the NPR crowd can feel good about themselves while signing off on it. But the fact that these stories exist and have an audience can also be blamed more specifically on the failures of mainstream feminism.

A lot of men (and the occasional cultishly servile woman) like to bitch about the problem with modern feminism as though it is something that hurts men, threatens men, demonizes men, or robs men of their place in society or anything else they feel entitled to. This is all dopey nonsense which amounts to nothing other than a childish temper tantrum over men losing control over women that they never should have had in the first place; it's people whining about losing their slaves. That imaginary piffle is not what is wrong with mainstream feminism. What is wrong with mainstream feminism is exemplified perfectly in a mass media parade celebrating the rise of women to the top of the most depraved industry on earth.

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2016/04/25/dominican-republic-first-stage-amer> 50%

WORLD

AMERICAS
EUROPE
ASIA-PACIFIC
MIDDLE EAST
AFRICA
SECURITY
WAR AND CONFLICT
ARMS CONTROL
DEFENSE
SOCIETY
BUSINESS
HISTORY
INTERVIEW
INFOGRAPHICS
VIDEOS
CONTRIBUTORS
ABOUT US

Nil Nikandrov | April 25, 2016

© Photo: Public domain

In 2015, the US Supreme Court issued a landmark decision, legalising same-sex marriage throughout the country. President Obama wrote on Twitter: "Today is a big step in our march toward equality. Gay and lesbian couples now have the right to marry, just like anyone else. #LoveWins".

Obama's directive, which identifies the protection of sexual minorities as a priority of US foreign policy and stipulates that their rights be defended, has also been sent to US missions overseas. US State Secretary John Kerry is giving the issue his utmost attention. The post of Special Envoy for the Human Rights of LGBT Persons has been created under his personal supervision, to which the American diplomat and homosexual Randy Berry has been appointed. He has stated that he intends to fervently defend the interests of LGBT persons in Latin America, primarily in countries not known for their tolerance of sexual minorities.

One of the first steps of Obama's 'rainbow' experiment was the appointment of James 'Wally' Brewster as US Ambassador to the Dominican Republic in 2013. It should be noted that Santo Domingo was the very first city to be colonised by the Spanish Crown in the Western hemisphere: it is the site of the first university, the first Catholic cathedral and the first fortress.

The people of the Dominican Republic, who are traditionally conservative in everything related to family life and the raising of children, greeted the news of Brewster's appointment with indignation. Reverend Cristóbal Cardozo, leader of the Dominican Evangelical Fraternity, openly referred to the appointment of the gay ambassador as "an insult to good Dominican customs". In an address to the Dominican senate, the United Left Movement also expressed concern at the appointment. The rationale is obvious: the people who sent Brewster "have not taken

II. Detectar la explotación de vulnerabilidades

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Narrativas destinadas a crear un enemigo externo

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2018/08/26/soros-role-in-social-media-censors/ 50%

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

EDITOR'S CHOICE

Soros' Role in Social Media Censorship Revealed in Leaked Document

August 26, 2018

Photo: Public domain

Isaac DAVIS

Social media censorship is here and out in the open, and it has become clear that the major tech companies are working together to shut down and silence members of the free press for political reasons. Of course, this has everything to do with Donald Trump being in office, and whether you support him or not, what is being lost in the effort to depose him will eventually affect everyone.

Censorship is not the American way, and while people today may think that the 'other' side is dead wrong and shouldn't be allowed to speak up, it takes a special kind of influence to achieve the level of social media and platform banning that we've seen in recent weeks.

It turns out, according to a leaked 49 page document, that this special influence may be none other than George Soros himself, the world's wealthiest liberal political agitator. Soros has long been known to exert influence, via his immense personal wealth, at the grass-roots level of many political struggles around the world.

"A confidential, 49-page memo for defeating Trump by working with the major social-media platforms to eliminate 'right wing propaganda and fake news' was presented in January 2017 by Media Matters founder David Brock at a retreat in Florida with about 100 donors, the Washington Free Beacon reported at the time

https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2016/09/26/george-soros-false-flag-factories/ 50%

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

WORLD

George Soros's False Flag Factories

Wayne Madsen | September 26, 2016

Photo: Public domain

Global hedge fund tycoon and political provocateur George Soros is leading a war of symbols, namely flags and banners either resurrected or conjured up by his myriad non-profit groups, to stir religious, racial, and ethnic tensions the world over. From the Serbian OTPOR! movement and its clenched-fist symbol adopted by protests groups around the world to the menacing black and white flag of the Islamic State, which first appeared during the Soros-backed «Arab Spring» rebellions, Soros's «false flag» factories have been running at break-neck production speeds.

Soros and his acolytes saw the importance of symbology in the writings of Gene Sharp of the Albert Einstein Institution in Boston, Massachusetts. Although Sharp's catechism of how to conduct non-violent resistance and revolution has been likened by some political scientists to Mohandas Gandhi and Dr. Martin Luther King, his concepts on upsetting the political status quo appear to be borrowed more from the likes of Mao Zedong, Karl Marx, and Adolf Hitler.

Among Sharp's necessary tools to conduct political action are «flags and symbolic colors», «slogans, caricatures, and symbols», and «banners, posters, and displayed communications». The «symbolic colors» have been used by Soros- and Central Intelligence Agency-sponsored «color revolutions» in Ukraine (Orange) and Kyrgyzstan (Pink) and attempted color revolutions in Iran (Green), Kuwait (Blue), and Burma (Saffron).

Wayne MADSEN
Investigative journalist, author and syndicated columnist. A member of the Society of Professional Journalists (SPJ) and the National Press Club

Also by this author

- Trump's Monroe Doctrine 2.0
- Nation Abandonment: the Catch Phrase for the 21st Century
- Grand Theft Government With a Tinge of Perversion
- The Rise of Militant Religious Right in Latin America
- Trump Ignites War on Native Americans From the Arctic Circle to Tierra del Fuego

Sign up for the Strategic Culture Foundation

Newsletter

Enter your email address

III. Detectar la intencionalidad ideológica extranjera/subversiva/antisistémica

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2018/12/31/mh17-turnabout-ukraine-guilt-now-proven>

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

MH17 Turnabout: Ukraine's Guilt Now Proven

Eric Zuesse | December 31, 2018

© Photo: Public domain

Finally, a clear and convincing — and unrefuted — case can now be presented to the public, as to precisely whom the guilty party was, that downed the MH17 Malaysian airliner over Ukraine on 17 July 2014, and why it was done. The complete case, which will be fully documented here, displays unequivocally who needed the MH17 murders (of 298 persons) to be perpetrated. This mass-murder was done for one leader's very pressing obsession. For him, it simply had to be done, and done at that precise time.

The full MH17 case will be presented here, to be judged by the public, because no court of law which possesses the power to bring this (or even any) case on the MH17 murders, is willing to do so, and because the evidence in this 17 July 2014 case has become overwhelming, and is unrefuted. This evidence is accepted by both sides. But it still remains effectively hidden from the publics in the United States and its allied countries. (The present news-report, which is the first ever to present this entire case, is submitted to all news-media in English-speaking countries, so that any of them that wishes to provide its audience access to this uncontested and conclusive evidence in the MH17 case can do so, by publishing this article. Any of them that won't, don't want their audience to have access to the conclusive evidence in this case, because this article is being made available to all of them to publish, free of charge; so, there is no other reason not to publish it.)

The complete evidence will be described, and all of the conclusive evidence is linked-to, proving who perpetrated, and who demanded, the shoot-down on 17 July 2014 of the Malaysian airliner MH17.

<https://www.strategic-culture.org/news/2018/09/20/skripal-affair-another-false-flag-in-nato-litany-to-criminalize-russia>

WORLD

AMERICAS

EUROPE

ASIA-PACIFIC

MIDDLE EAST

AFRICA

SECURITY

WAR AND CONFLICT

ARMS CONTROL

DEFENSE

SOCIETY

BUSINESS

HISTORY

INTERVIEW

INFOGRAPHICS

VIDEOS

CONTRIBUTORS

ABOUT US

The Skripal Affair – Another False Flag in NATO Litany to Criminalize Russia

Finian Cunningham | September 20, 2018

© Photo: Public domain

If we start from a premise which understands that Britain and its NATO allies are capable of mounting false flag events in Syria with chemical weapons, then it is entirely possible that British secret services carried out a similar propaganda stunt in England with regard to former Russian double agent Sergei Skripal.

We also need to bear in mind that British state intelligence agencies are plausibly running a covert assassination program targeting Russian exiles living in Britain – for the purpose of incriminating Moscow.

Over the past two decades, more than a dozen Russian dissidents have met untimely deaths while residing in England, including Alexander Litvinenko and Boris Berezovsky. Their deaths provide propaganda fodder for the British to accuse Moscow of carrying out "revenge killings".

However, the suspicious circumstances surrounding each death could more conceivably point to the British liquidating the Russian exiles as propaganda assets.

In the case of Sergei Skripal, the disgraced former Russian military intelligence officer was convicted in Russia of being a spy working for Britain's MI6. He was exiled to England more than a decade ago as part of an espionage swap deal.

El caso de www.strategic-culture.org

Medios con mayor índice de desconfianza

Sitio	País	Índice
https://www.globalresearch.ca/	Canadá	70
https://redinternacional.net/	España	69
https://conspiracionesblog.wordpress.com	España	68
https://www.strategic-culture.org/	Rusia	67
http.s://www.geopolitica.ru/es	Rusia	65
https://katehon.com/es	Rusia	65
https://movimientopoliticoderesistencia.blogspot.com/	España	64

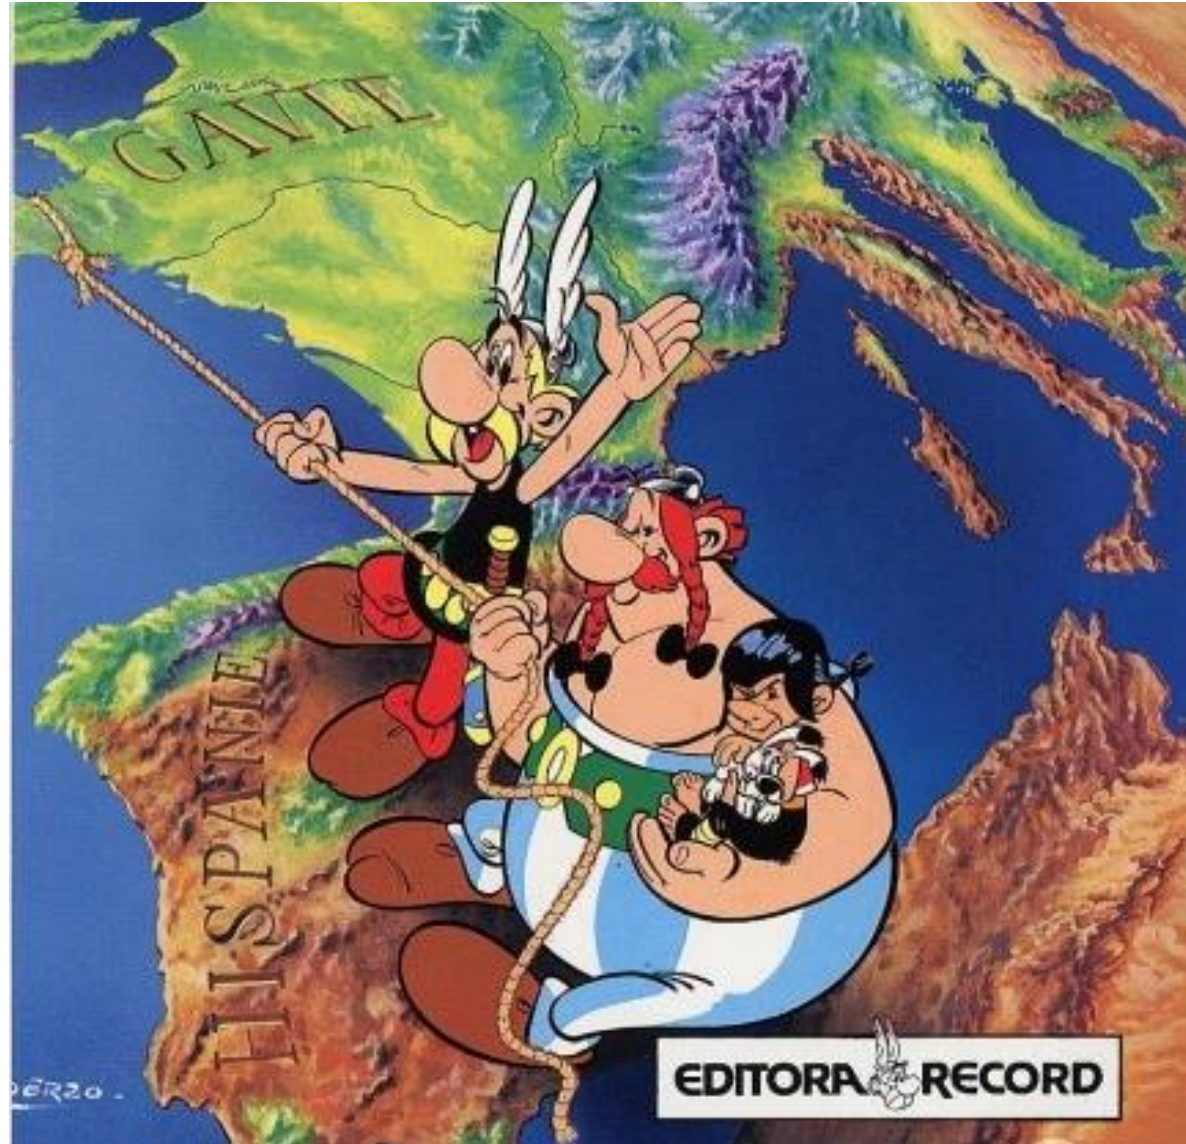

ELISA

Estudio
simplificado de
fuentes abiertas

Gracias

COMUNIDAD Y CONFIANZA,
BASES DE NUESTRA CIBERSEGURIDAD

#XIIIJORNADASCNCERT

OC.CCN.CNI.ES

WWW.CCN.CNI.ES

WWW.CCN-CERT.CNI.ES

XIII JORNADAS STIC CCN-CERT

ccn-cert
centro criptológico nacional