1. Presentation and contextualization

Within the National Cryptology Centre (CCN), an organisation attached to the National Intelligence Centre (CNI), we are fully aware of the mission entrusted to us and of the need to transmit it to Spanish society. And among these functions is that of contributing to the improvement of Spanish cybersecurity, being the national alert and response centre that cooperates and helps to respond quickly and efficiently to cyber-attacks and to actively confront cyber-threats.

In this task of creating a strong culture of cybersecurity, the CCN undertakes a large number of information and awareness actions, in order to provide all the actors involved with the tools and knowledge necessary to protect their information, systems and services. And of all of them, the STIC CCN-CERT Conference, whose twelfth edition we are now presenting, has become the main cybersecurity event held in Spain, not only because of the great success of the event (it is expected to surpass more than 1,700 attendees in 2017), but also because of the quality of the topics covered and the experience and knowledge of the speakers.

This time, the slogan chosen for this XII STIC CCN-CERT Conference is "Cybersecurity, for an effective response and deterrence", convinced, as we are, of the necessary paradigm shift in the protection of cyberspace. Convinced as we are of the need to advance towards the paradigm of resilience, accepting a residual risk, where the capacities for monitoring and surveillance are increasingly important, together with an effective response at all levels of the State (citizens, companies and the public sector).

Convinced as we are of the need for a response focused on detection, traceability and the taking of criminal action against cyber-criminals, so that measures can be developed that are credible and dissuasive against attackers.

And all this, within the framework of a growing cooperation between the public and private sectors, promoting the intelligence community and building an atmosphere of mutual trust.

This is the only way to strengthen cybersecurity in all its areas and to deter the attacker from his intentions.

2. Data sheet

2.1. Event host

The CCN-CERT is the Information Security Incident Response Capacity of the National Cryptologic Center, CCN, attached to the National Intelligence Center, CNI. This service was created in 2006 as a Spanish National Governmental CERT and its functions are included in Law 11/2002 regulating the CNI, RD 421/2004 regulating the CCN and RD 3/2010, of 8 January, regulating the National Security Scheme (ENS), modified by RD 951/2015 of 23 October.

Its mission, therefore, is to contribute to the improvement of Spanish cybersecurity, being the national alert and response centre that cooperates and helps to respond quickly and efficiently to cyber-attacks and to actively confront cyber-threats, including the coordination at the state public level of the different Incident Response Capacities or existing Cybersecurity Operations Centres.

All this, with the ultimate aim of achieving a more secure and reliable cyberspace, preserving classified information (as stated in Article 4.F of Law 11/2002) and sensitive information, defending the Spanish Technological Heritage, training expert personnel, applying security policies and procedures and using and developing the most appropriate technologies for this purpose.

In accordance with these regulations and Law 40/2015 of the Public Sector Legal System, the CCN-CERT is responsible for the management of cyber-incidents affecting any public body or company. In the case of critical public sector operators, the management of cyber-incidents will be carried out by the CCN-CERT in coordination with the CNPIC.
